

Mr. WORKS (when his name was called). On this question I am paired with the junior Senator from New York [Mr. O'GORMAN] and therefore withhold my vote. If he were present the Senator from New York would vote "yea" and I should vote "nay."

The roll call was concluded.

Mr. BACON (after having voted in the affirmative). Mr. President, before the vote is announced I desire to say that I have a general pair with the senior Senator from Maine [Mr. FRYE]. As I have voted I think it proper to say that I have done so in accordance with his permission.

Mr. CHAMBERLAIN (after having voted in the negative). I have a general pair with the junior Senator from Pennsylvania [Mr. OLIVER]. I am just advised that he has not voted, and I therefore withdraw my vote. I understand that if the junior Senator from Pennsylvania were present he would vote "yea."

Mr. GORE (after having voted in the negative). I am advised that the junior Senator from Maryland [Mr. SMITH] is absent from the city. I have a pair with him upon this vote. If he were present he would vote "yea." I have voted "nay," but on account of the pair I withdraw my vote.

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. President, I did not understand whether the Senator from Virginia announced that his colleague [Mr. SWANSON] would have voted "yea" or "nay."

Mr. MARTIN of Virginia. The junior Senator from Virginia, if present, would have voted "yea."

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. I understood the senior Senator from Virginia to say that the junior Senator from Virginia was paired with the junior Senator from Michigan [Mr. TOWNSEND]. The junior Senator from Michigan is not present, being unavoidably absent, and, as I have announced, if present he would have voted "yea"; so that the pair does not stand, as I understand.

Mr. MARTIN of Virginia. Both are absent and it does not affect the vote.

The result was announced—yeas 48, nays 20, as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
PROCLAMATION.

To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Whereas in and by an act of the general assembly, entitled "An act relating to the elections of this Commonwealth," approved July 2, A. D. 1839, it is made the duty of the governor, upon the receipt of the returns of the election of Members of the House of Representatives of the United States by the secretary of the Commonwealth, to declare by proclamation the names of the persons elected in the respective districts;

And whereas by the death of the Hon. Joel Cook, who was elected to represent the second congressional district, composed of the eighth, ninth, tenth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, twentieth, and thirty-seventh wards of the city of Philadelphia, in the House of Representatives of the United States, a vacancy now exists in said district for the Sixty-second Congress;

And whereas a special election for Member of the House of Representatives of the United States was held in the said second congressional district on Tuesday, the 23d day of May, A. D. 1911, to fill said vacancy as aforesaid;

And whereas the returns of said special election held on Tuesday, May 23, A. D. 1911, for Representative of said district in the House of Representatives of the Sixty-second Congress of the United States for the term for which the said Hon. Joel Cook, deceased, was elected have been received at the office of the secretary of the Commonwealth, agreeably to the provisions of the above-recited act of the general assembly, whereby it appears that in the said second congressional district WILLIAM STUART REYBURN has been duly elected;

Now, therefore, I, John K. Tener, governor of said Commonwealth, do issue this my proclamation, hereby publishing and declaring that WILLIAM STUART REYBURN has been returned as duly elected in the second congressional district before mentioned as Representative in the House of Representatives of the United States for the term for which the Hon. Joel Cook, deceased, was elected in the Sixty-second Congress.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at the city of Harrisburg, this 27th day of May, A. D. 1911, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and thirty-fifth.

[SEAL.]

By the governor:

JOHN K. TENER.

ROBERT MCAFEE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Mr. BINGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I present Mr. REYBURN to be sworn in.

The SPEAKER administered the oath of office to Mr. REYBURN.

UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution which I send to the desk and ask to have read.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 186.

Resolved, That AUGUSTUS P. GARDNER be, and is hereby, elected a member of the select committee provided for in House resolution 148 in place of MARLIN E. OLMSTED, resigned.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

THE WOOL SCHEDULE.

Mr. BURLESON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I may proceed for two minutes, for the purpose of making a brief statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Texas asks unanimous consent that he may proceed for two minutes to make a brief statement. Is there objection?

There was no objection.

Mr. BURLESON. Mr. Speaker, on yesterday a Democratic caucus was held, which gave its approval to a bill shortly to be introduced, revising Schedule K of the existing tariff law. During the caucus proceedings considerable discussion was had as to the necessity of laying a tariff upon raw wool for revenue purposes. During the day, and prior to action upon the bill by the caucus, a resolution was adopted, which the morning newspapers failed to carry in their report of the caucus proceedings, and I ask that the resolution be read in my time, in order that all of the facts may be known in connection with the approval that was given the bill.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BURLESON. Certainly.

Mr. MANN. The gentleman says he desires that all of the facts be known. Can he put in the rest of the proceedings of the caucus?

Mr. BURLESON. The proceedings, with the exception of this resolution, were substantially carried by the newspapers this morning.

Mr. MANN. But not in the RECORD.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Texas asks unanimous consent for the reading of the resolution referred to. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none.

Mr. WILSON of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. BURLESON. Certainly.

Mr. WILSON of Illinois. Were the speeches that were delivered here yesterday and last night made a part of the RECORD also?

Mr. BURLESON. There was no stenographic report of the speeches, but not a speech delivered during the day would have given any comfort to the gentleman from Illinois. [Laughter and applause on the Democratic side.]

Mr. WILSON of Illinois. How about the gentleman from Texas?

Mr. HILL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BURLESON. Certainly.

Mr. HILL. Does the gentleman expect the adoption of this resolution without discussion?

Mr. BURLESON. Oh, no; I am not asking the House to take action on the resolution. I simply ask that it be read in order that its contents may be made public and that the country may know exactly what took place.

Mr. HILL. Then it is not understood that in not declining to allow the resolution to be read and put into the RECORD, those who do not decline assent to the principles involved?

Mr. BURLESON. Oh, the resolution states only the truth—the straightforward, God's honest truth.

Mr. HILL. That is a matter of opinion that might be decided after argument, but the question I asked was whether we are to be allowed to discuss the proposition or whether we are to accept it?

Mr. BURLESON. You will be given full opportunity to discuss it when the gentleman from Alabama presents the bill revising Schedule K. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Mr. HILL. But no opportunity will be given now?

Mr. BURLESON. You can, so far as I am concerned.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the reading of the resolution? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the bill revising Schedule K, as presented to this caucus by the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee, is not to be construed as an abandonment of any Democratic policy—

[Applause on the Republican side.]

but in view of the Democratic platform demand for a "gradual reduction" of the tariff, and of the depleted and depleting condition of the Public Treasury—

[Applause on the Democratic side.]

a result of Republican extravagance—

[Applause on the Democratic side.]

a tariff of 20 per cent ad valorem on raw wool is now proposed as a revenue necessity.

Mr. PAYNE. I would like to ask the gentleman from Texas a question.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Texas yield to the gentleman from New York?

Mr. BURLESON. Certainly.

Mr. PAYNE. Was it stated in that meeting yesterday that there is now a surplus for this fiscal year of from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 in the Treasury?

Mr. BURLESON. I do not recall that any statement of that character was made.

Mr. PAYNE. Was a statement made that the Treasury was $20,000,000 better off to-day, or, rather, the 31st day of May—

Mr. BURLESON. No.

Mr. PAYNE (continuing). Than it was a year ago?

Mr. BURLESON. No; there was not a single erroneous statement made during the entire caucus proceeding. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, in that connection, I ask unanimous consent to print the Treasury statement of May 31, in order that the gentlemen on the other side may have exactly the official information which I was trying to give the gentleman from Texas by a question, but it appears he would not accept it—

Mr. BURLERSON. Mr. Speaker, I join in the request in order that the statement of the gentleman from New York may be thoroughly refuted.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, I demand the regular order.

Mr. PAYNE. I would like to get that consent, Mr. Speaker. The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from New York will suspend, the Chair will endeavor to get the consent. Is there objection to the publication of the statement which the gentleman from New York mentioned? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none, and it is so ordered.

The statement follows.

Mr. DALZELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman a question.

Mr. GARNER. Now, Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. The time of the gentleman from Texas [Mr. BURLERSON] has expired.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that his time may be extended for five minutes.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. MANN. Oh, ha, ha, ha.

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, did any gentleman rise in his place and object?

The SPEAKER. Yes; the gentleman from Texas [Mr. GARNER] was standing in the aisle when he objected.

Mr. PAYNE. The gentleman from Texas [Mr. GARNER]?

The SPEAKER. Yes.

ELECTION OF MEMBERS TO FILL VACANCIES ON COMMITTEES.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, there are vacancies on three standing committees of the House caused by the resignation of Members. I move the election of Hon. ROBERT E. DIFENDERFER, of Pennsylvania, to a vacancy now existing on the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department. Also the election of Hon. CHARLES F. BOOHER, of Missouri, to the Committee on Expenditures in the Navy Department. Also the election of the Hon. SAMUEL A. WITHERSPOON, of Mississippi, to the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask to have the motion reported from the Clerk's desk.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the motion.

The Clerk read as follows:

Hon. ROBERT E. DIFENDERFER, of Pennsylvania, nominated by the committee on committees—

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I did not write the motion out. I just sent the names up there. The gentleman from Illinois—

Mr. MANN. I do not ask the gentleman from Alabama to write the motion out.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read.

The Clerk read as follows:

Hon. ROBERT E. DIFENDERFER, of Pennsylvania, to the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department.

Hon. CHARLES F. BOOHER, of Missouri, to the Committee on Expenditures in the Navy Department.

Hon. SAMUEL A. WITHERSPOON, of Mississippi, to the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice.

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, the Clerk started to read something as to the recommendation of the committee on committees. I suppose that as a member of the Ways and Means Committee I am a member of the committee on committees. I am not aware that that committee has been called together to make a recommendation.

Mr. JAMES. The gentleman is awfully mistaken about that.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman that he is still working under the czar rule on that side.

Mr. PAYNE. I think the only mistake the gentleman made was that he supposed before the session commenced, and has since, that the entire rules and legislation of the House were settled upon in caucus, and not in the House itself.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I will say that Mr. DIFENDERFER, who is assigned to the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department, takes the position vacated by Mr. BOOHER, and I would like to be informed what position Mr. DIFENDERFER will be accorded on that committee.

The SPEAKER. He will go to the foot of the Democratic contingent on that committee.

The question is on the motion of the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD].

The question was taken, and the motion was agreed to.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

By unanimous consent, leaves of absence were granted as follows:

To Mr. HAMMOND, for two weeks, on account of important business.

To Mr. BORLAND, for two weeks, on account of important business.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL TUESDAY.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I move that when the House adjourns to-day it adjourn until Tuesday next.

Mr. MANN. Tuesday is unanimous-consent day and committee-discharge day.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, the motion is not debatable.

Mr. MANN. I ask unanimous consent, Mr. Speaker, for one minute.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman really wants to discuss this question, I will ask unanimous consent that the gentleman may have 10 minutes, and that I may have a like amount of time.

Mr. MANN. I do not want more than one minute.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD] asks unanimous consent that the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN] have 10 minutes in which to discuss the motion.

Mr. MANN. I only asked one minute.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. I will couple with that the request that I have 10 minutes.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD] asks unanimous consent that the gentleman from Illinois have 1 minute and that he himself have 10 minutes. Is there objection?

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I object to that. I am in favor of the gentleman's original proposition for 10 minutes on a side.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Has the unanimous consent carried, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. JAMES. It was objected to by the gentleman from New York over the protest of the minority leader.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none. The gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN] is recognized.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, next Monday, if the House met, would be Unanimous Consent Calendar day, Suspension Calendar day, and Committee Discharge Calendar day. There are a number of bills upon the Committee Discharge Calendar, such as the pension bill, a bill providing for the physical valuation of railroads, and a large number of others, which might just as well be considered by the House while it is waiting for the final adjournment and waiting on other business. It seems to me that with the committees appointed in the House ready to do work, if they are willing to work, it is right and proper that the House take up these matters on Monday and determine whether the House will proceed to their consideration if the committees will not discharge the duties for which they are appointed, but sit idle and do nothing. The motion of the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD] if it prevails, will carry over this discharge day. We have heard a good deal in the country about the desirability of giving the House the right to discharge committees which will not consider bills, and yet when we are met with the actual proposition that side of the House is afraid to meet the issue. It is all very well for them to say that the caucus of their party has determined not to act, but we are met now with this proposition, for example: On the Panama Canal it is absolutely necessary that we fix the tolls that shall be charged for the use of the canal when it shall have been opened. And yet we have here a majority declining, so far, to do anything, although I hope on that matter they will change their opinion.

Let us have a meeting on Monday and say whether we are willing to go ahead and transact other business while we are waiting upon the distinguished gentleman from Alabama and his committee to report these tariff bills. [Applause on the Republican side.]

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, when I hear the pathetic plea of the gentleman from Illinois I hark back to the time when the Hon. Thomas B. Reed sat in that chair and the Dingley bill was under consideration, when for four long months he refused to appoint a committee of this House because, he said—not the House, but he said—that this Congress should transact no business except the enactment of the tariff bill. I remember at that time—

Mr. HINDS. Will the gentleman yield there?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. No; excuse me. The Hon. Jerry Simpson, of Kansas, occupying a position corresponding to that of my friend from Illinois, would rise in his seat on every day, almost, and ask the distinguished Speaker of the House when he intended to appoint the committees and let the House transact business. I remember when the Payne bill was before this House it was stated by the distinguished gentleman from New York [Mr. PAYNE] that the session was a tariff session, and that we were here to enact only tariff legislation and that no other legislation should be considered by this House. We have Republican precedents if we wanted to prohibit legislation. But we do not. Instead of asking the Speaker of this House to act the part of a czar and refuse to appoint committees of the House we have carried the matter before the caucus of the responsible majority of this House, and they have outlined a program of legislation for this Congress at this extra session—a program that has met with the approval of the American people. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

We have not prohibited all legislation. We have passed a bill compelling publicity of campaign contributions before elections that you refused to do.

Mr. MANN. Oh, we passed it at the last Congress.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Well, not requiring publicity of contributions before elections.

Mr. MANN. Yes; we did. In the House we passed it in that way.

Mr. BURLESON. But your party failed to enact it.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Your party failed to pass it, and if it fails now it will be because of your party and not ours.

Mr. MANN. That is another question.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. We have passed on to the United States Senate a bill requiring the election of United States Senators by the people of the United States. We have passed the legislation that a Republican President called us together to enact—

Mr. WILSON of Illinois. So did we—

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Legislation which your party in another branch of Congress, at the other end of the Capitol, to this day has not even reported to the Senate of the United States. We are here to carry out our legislative program. The country did not want us to stay here all summer and enact any general legislation, therefore we limited our program to the important questions that the country demanded, including tariff legislation, and it would be a matter of absurdity for us when we had, by the action of the responsible majority of this House, told the chairmen of the great committees of this House that they should not report any bills except the bills agreed upon in our program, to come here and meet, as the gentleman from Illinois wants us to do, and go through the form of defeating motions to discharge committees when the responsible majority of this House has told those committees they should not report the bills.

Now, we do not dodge the issue. The reason the bills are not reported is because we said they should not be reported. In due time, I will say to the gentleman from Illinois, those bills will come before the House.

Mr. MANN. There is no time like the present.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. They will come before the House, not as introduced, but they will come before the House—

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. UNDERWOOD. I ask the gentleman not to interrupt me. They will come before the House properly considered by the legislative committees of this House, put on the calendar in the regular way, and if they meet with the approval of the majority of this House, they will be enacted into law. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

The gentleman from Illinois asked us to go through a farce. He knows, and the country knows, why the bills have not been reported, and he knows that if the Committee Discharge Calendar were in order to be considered to-day, in common justice to those committees, in good faith to our position, we would be compelled to defeat the motion to discharge the committees. It is for that reason that we are adjourning over Calendar Monday, so that the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN] may not attempt to play horse in this House by trying to work the Discharge Calendar, when he knows the great committees of this House have been prohibited from reporting these bills. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a vote.

Mr. DALZELL. Will the gentleman allow me to interrupt him?

Mr. NORRIS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I may proceed for five minutes.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order that this resolution is not debatable.

Mr. NORRIS. The gentleman has had 10 minutes—

Mr. UNDERWOOD. I yielded to the minority leader [Mr. MANN] such time as he desired.

Mr. DALZELL. I suggest to the gentleman—

The SPEAKER. The House will be in order. This motion is not debatable under the rules, but the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD] obtained 10 minutes for himself and 1 minute for the gentleman from Illinois, at the request of that gentleman, by unanimous consent of the House.

Mr. DALZELL. If the time of the gentleman from Alabama has not expired, I think he ought to yield to me, to correct a mistaken statement which he made.

Mr. SLAYDEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman representing the Democratic Party had 10 minutes, and the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN], representing the Republican Party on this floor, had the opportunity to use 10 minutes, ought not the third party, represented by the gentleman from Nebraska [Mr. NORRIS] to have 10 minutes also?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Nebraska [Mr. NORRIS] asks unanimous consent to address the House for five minutes.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. I object.

The SPEAKER. Objection is made.

Mr. DALZELL. Will the gentleman yield now for a minute, to allow me to make a correction?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. If the gentleman says that he desires to have one minute to correct a statement that I made, if I have made any incorrect statement, I am pleased to have the gentleman correct it, and I will ask that the gentleman have one minute.

Mr. MANN. The gentleman from Alabama has time remaining.

Mr. DALZELL. Mr. Speaker, I think that in justice to the memory of Mr. Reed I should make this statement: The gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD] ascribed to him an assumption of power to refuse to appoint committees. While the Dingley bill was in process of making, and while the House was adjourning three days at a time, as we are adjourning now, Mr. Dingley offered a resolution directing the Speaker to appoint the committees of the House, and that resolution was voted upon, and voted down by a vote of the House.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Yes; after the House had been in session for months. I was here with the gentleman, and I remember very well. We had been in session for months.

Mr. DALZELL. But Mr. Reed was not responsible for that.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Well, Speaker Reed had refused for months to appoint the committees, and then this resolution was offered to protect the Speaker.

Mr. SWITZER. Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. I ask for a vote.

Mr. SWITZER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Alabama allow a question?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. No. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a vote.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, when the question is put, I shall ask for the yeas and nays.

The SPEAKER. The question to be voted on is the motion of the gentleman from Alabama, that when the House adjourns to-day it adjourn to meet on Tuesday next. On that question the gentleman from Illinois demands the yeas and nays. Those in favor of ordering the yeas and nays will rise and stand until they are counted. [After counting.] Those opposed will rise and stand until they are counted. The Chair will count all gentlemen standing.

The question being taken, the Speaker announced 48 in favor of ordering the yeas and nays and 130 in the negative, more than one-fifth in the affirmative—a sufficient number—and that the yeas and nays were ordered.
